

NSW BEC SERVICES

INDEPENDENT
CONFIDENTIAL
COMPETENT
BUSINESS COUNSELLING

The NSW BEC network provides services designed to assist people who wish to start their own business, as well as those who wish to expand, develop or better manage their existing business. Assistance is provided to operators of micro-, small – and medium size enterprises.

When you visit your local BEC, you can expect:

- Access to low cost, practical business information, counselling and support.
- Guidance with the preparation of business plans, including marketing, budgeting and cash flow.
- Information on other assistance available through Commonwealth and State Government services and programs.
- Information on government regulations and requirements, commercial sources of finance, technical assistance and product development, market research, local premises, etc.
- Information and guidance on Commercial Leasing.
- Access to mentor support and coaching.
- Referrals to relevant specialist professional advisers eg: accountants, lawyers, financial planners, marketers, etc.
- Linkage to local (private and public sector) services and organisations involved in business, economic development and job creation through a range of networking activities.
- Access to a range of training workshops and seminars.
